The Poke Lids Guide

GALARIAN FARFETCH'D : JR SAWARA STATION

This lid decorated with Galarian Farfetch'd. Galarian Farfetch'd is a brave warrior, and it wields a thick, tough leek in battle. Things behind Galarian Farfetch'd are Kanameishi (keystone) and Sanbonsugi (three cedar trees), which are said to be spiritual places of Katori Jingu Shrine. Katori Jingu shrine is dedicated to Futsunushi, the god of battle that brought peace to Japan. Many people visit Katori Jingu shrine to pray for victory.

FALINKS · ROOKIDEE : IN FRONT OF INOH TADATAKA MUSEUM

Falinks and 2 Rookidee are walking together. Falinks act in a row with 1 brass and 5 troopers. Rookidee will bravely challenge any opponent no matter how powerful.

There is Ja Ja Bridge near the Inoh Tadataka Museum which Poké Lids was installed. These Pokémon overlap with Inoh Tadataka, who surveyed Japan with only 6 people during the Edo Period, without fear of danger. Inoh Tadataka may have completed the map of Japan because he overcame various adversities.

LOTAD · SEEDOT · STARAVIA : ROADSIDE STATION AND RIVERSIDE

STATION MIZU-NO-SATO SAWARA

This is Mizu-no-Sato Sawara, where Katori's culture and food gather, and is crowded with locals and tourists.

Lotad carries Seedot that cannot swim on its leaf. Staravia living in forests and grasslands is depicted as if it came to see Lotad and Seedot. It is a design rich in nature like the riverside city.

In Katori City, the Great Camphor Tree of Fuma (nationally designated natural monuments) and Sappa Boat on Ono River are well known.

FLORGES · FLETCHLING : SUIGO SAWARA AYAME PARK

Florges is a guardian of flower garden and are said to live for hundreds of years. Friendly Fletchling are coming to the flower garden. Florges and Fletchling add more lively to Suigo Sawara Ayame Park.

Please come and enjoy rich nature of Suigo Sawara Ayame Park with flowers such as irises, wisteria, lotus and licorice every season.
